High Point University: A Profile

High Point University is a four-year liberal arts university founded in 1924. Enrollment has grown to approximately 3,000 daytime and evening degree students. There are 125 faculty members with a student-to-faculty ratio of 16 to 1. Sixty-two percent of classes enroll fewer than 20 students. Seventy-five percent of the faculty hold doctorates while the remainder hold one or more master's degrees. Degree programs include Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Master of Science, and Master of Business Education. America's Best Colleges (published by US News and World Reports) ranked High Point University among the top ten of regional liberal arts colleges in the US in 1996, 1997, and 1998. The University has varsity teams in men's and women's soccer, basketball, tennis, track, cross country, men's baseball and golf, and women's volleyball. There are four national fraternities and four national sororities along with over 40 clubs and organizations.

I have great faith in the future of humankind because I believe in you, the young people whom we hold in our hearts. You, the class of 2000, are special to us as are all graduating classes, and on behalf of the entire High Point University family, I congratulate you.

In the challenging age we need guidance. Dollars, guns, and the marvelous technological products of science and industry are not enough. We need faith which gives hope - something far bigger than ourselves. From where does it come? Always, growing societies record their faith in God while decaying societies lack faith in God. Regardless, America will be strong with renewed faith in the love of God and in God's intelligent mercy.

I am optimistic because I know you. You represent the best in America. You have learned what we all must learn: that there are wellsprings of power outside ourselves that must be tapped, and with God's help, they will be.

Best wishes for a wonderful future.

Move-In Day

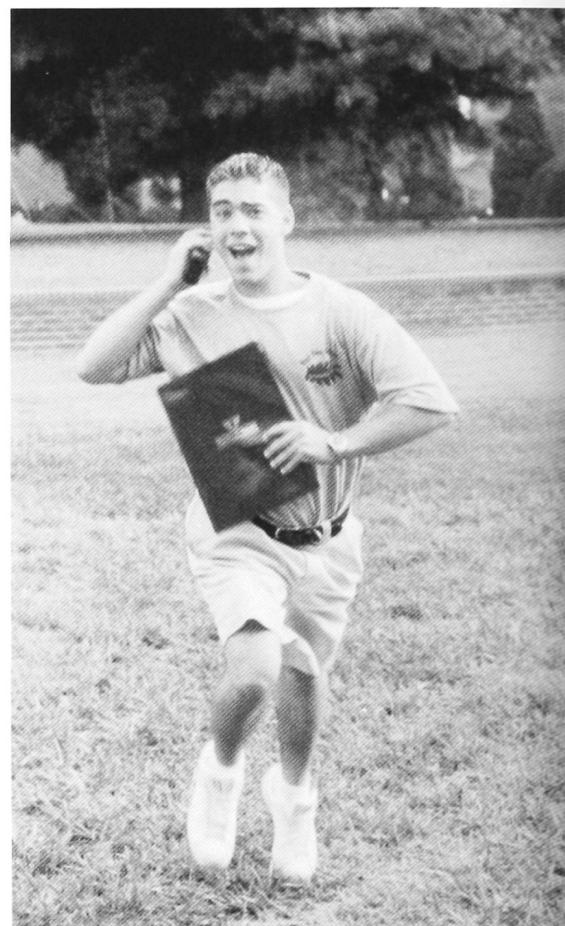

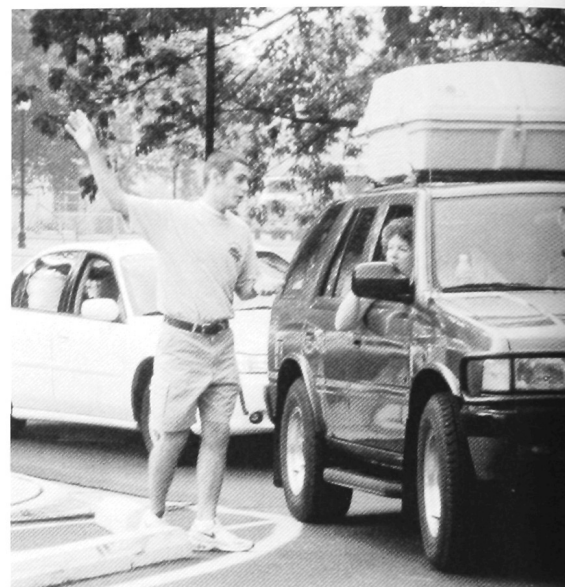

New students and their families
navigate orientation

Some families travelled over 12 hours....some only a few minutes, all with the same goal in mind - to move in to High Point University. Parents and students navigated moving in, then on to the Slane Center for their matriculation packets and to check schedules. The Student Orientation Staff (S.O.S.) helped new students with that task and with their transition to college life. Kat Hoffman, who served as student core leader, along with her S.O.S. crew of 60, helped make move-in day a smoothly-run success.

Kat Hoffman checks on the information desk as parents and new students head for Slane Center.

Student traffic coordination keeps move-in day moving.

George Taylor rushes to the rescue to solve a move-in day dilemma.

New students and parents received the infamous purple packet to help guide them through the registration and matriculation process.

Betsy Orcutt, Dean Evans, Kat Hoffman, and Shalon Hickie coordinate move-in activities from the Student Life Office.

Carpet and refrigerator sales benefit new students and all proceeds help fund SGA.

Orientation Activities

Entertainment Committee kept the community busy with events

There are many things to do during the first week of school besides getting moved in and starting classes. The Entertainment Crew, headed by Jenny May, planned and coordinated daytime and evening social events. These events were designed to assist new students in meeting others. Evening events included the luau, street dance, dessert social, movie night, hypnotist show, and an outdoor concert. Daytime events included an outdoor concert, picnic, and lawn party inflatables.

Study Abroad

Learning how the world works

The Study Abroad Program is an important part of High Point University's education program. Selected students have the opportunity to live and study in countries such as England, Ireland, France, Germany, Mexico, and Spain. This program gives a student first-hand knowledge of living in another culture plus valuable experience travelling. Programs cater to students seeking foreign language studies and with those who are just adventurous at heart. There is plenty of time spent studying in the classroom, but many students also enjoy short sightseeing trips during the weekends.

Gary McMullen and Tony Coltrell hiked the 2,100 foot Croagh Patrick Mountain in Ireland in October, 1999. They were joined by friends Sue from England and Steven from the Netherlands and paused at the top for a photo of their achievement.

Student Activities Board

Entertaining the campus

The SAB is a division of SGA and is chaired by Chris Huff. SAB produces about 35-40 events per semester ranging from comedians, coffeehouse singers, novelty acts to movie nights. All funding is from SGA and all SAB events are chosen by students. Every semester a delegation of SAB members attends a NACA (National Association of Campus Activities) conference. At the conference the delegation views talented acts from all over the US and world in order to decide which to bring to campus. Once acts are booked, a master calendar is made and the SAB board makes sure each event runs smoothly.

Volunteer Activities

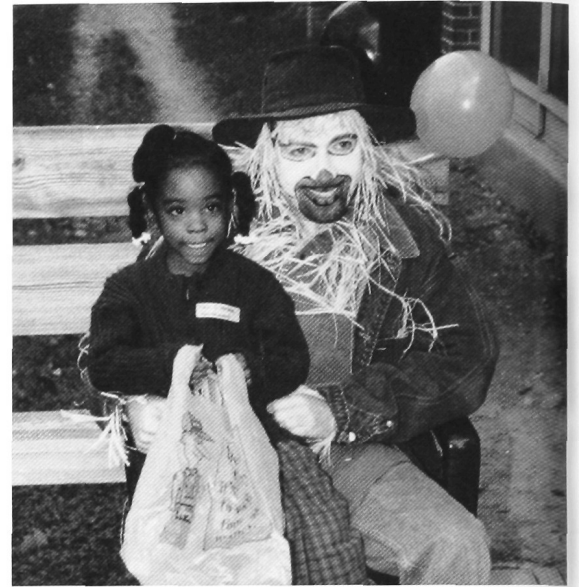

Campus Connection brings together students with volunteer service

High Point University is a community leader in many areas, especially volunteer service. The faculty/staff and students completed over 25,000 hours of community service on and off campus during 1999. The Campus Connection Volunteer Center helps students coordinate their service and provides a valuable link to outside agencies. The Center is headed by Burton Martin, director, and Nick Williams, assistant director. Clubs and organizations regularly complete volunteer service projects including crop walk, fund raising, lunch buddies, clean ups, etc. The most successful programs include the Halloween Carnival and Easter Egg Hunt for local children. Both are held on campus through student support.

Burton Martin and Nick Williams coordinated Halloween activities and made it the most successful year to date.

The Crop Walk kicked off at High Point University as students and community members brave rainy weather to participate.

Members of Theta Chi fraternity assisted with Crop Walk set-up.

Wendy Francis, Jeff Hann, and Nick Williams staff the Alpha Phi Omega Service fraternity.

College Drive underwent extensive work when the road was enlarged and repositioned.

The parking lot behind the new chapel addition was rebuilt to accommodate more parking spaces (reserved for freshmen males).

The LAC became Academic Services Center, headed by Director Tammy Ott and Assistant Director Craig Curty.

The Hayworth Chapel received a facelift which included a frontal addition and a new steeple.

Campus Changes

High Point University campus continues to grow

As we approached the millenium, our campus made some significant improvements. Hayworth Chapel gained a larger vestibule and new outward appearance, including a beautiful steeple. Next door, Haworth Hall of Science made a similar transformation, adding more classroom and office space. Parking lots were enlarged, due to the influx of more commuters and a greater need for convenient parking. The LAC became the Academic Services Center which caters to all students and their academic needs.

Haworth Hall of Science prepares for construction of a new addition.

Smith Library touts a new fountain and landscaping.

The Greensward lost ground as Haworth Hall gained new classroom space.

Residence Life

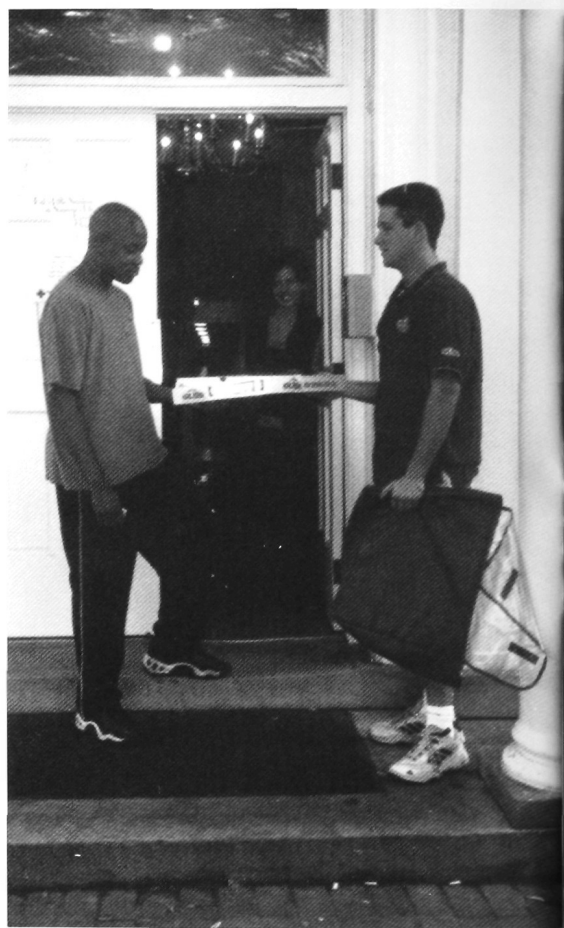

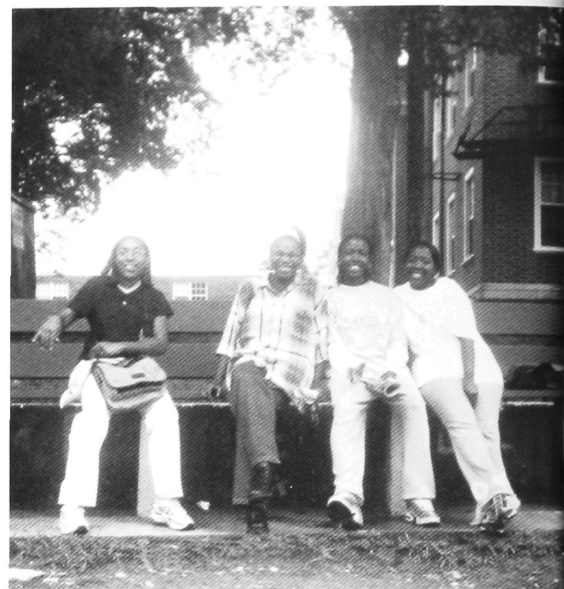

How we spend 70% of our time

Only 30% of students' time is spend in the classroom, making residential life an important part of one's college career. There are over 800 students residing on campus, most in double occupancy rooms. Resident assistants, located on each floor, help plan activities, especially in the beginning of the year to help students get to know each other. Each hall is a bevy of activity - from study groups, impromptu get-togethers, and laundry visits, to just hanging out in the lounges. It may be hard to adjust to living among others, but in the end, it's a great way to be a part of the community.

Corie Dixon and Molesha Smith enjoy a homemade meal while watching TV.

Hanging out on the bench next to the Complex is a great way to check out the local action.

Pizza delivery is a "must" for all college students.

Communal living means guests drop by all the time.

Kellie Keslar tackles the vacuuming.

LeRae Rice and Melissa Males catch up on studying - in between phone calls, of course.

75 Years of Excellence

High Point University celebrates its diamond anniversary in 1999

In 1924 High Point College was founded. Seventy-five years later, the dreams of our founders are being realized: a beautiful campus environment filled with educational opportunities and a student population that mirrors the world. In the past 7 decades High Point University has earned numerous academic distinctions. Since 1995 it has been ranked among the top ten of regional liberal arts colleges in the US by America's Best Colleges (a publication of US News & World Report). It has also placed among the top 20 most efficient regional institutions in the nation, in 1997 received the National Student Retention Award, and was bestowed grants from the Kellogg and Toelo Foundations. The Campus Chronicle newspaper has been listed as one of the top 20 campus newspapers by the American Scholastic Press. As we venture into the next 75 years, who knows what outstanding achievements await our community.

Dr. Jacob Martinson leads High Point University into the new millenium.

Among the 120 colleges and universities affiliated with the United Methodist Church, High Point University is one of the fastest-growing institutions. Campus enrollment in 1999 was more than 3,000 students.

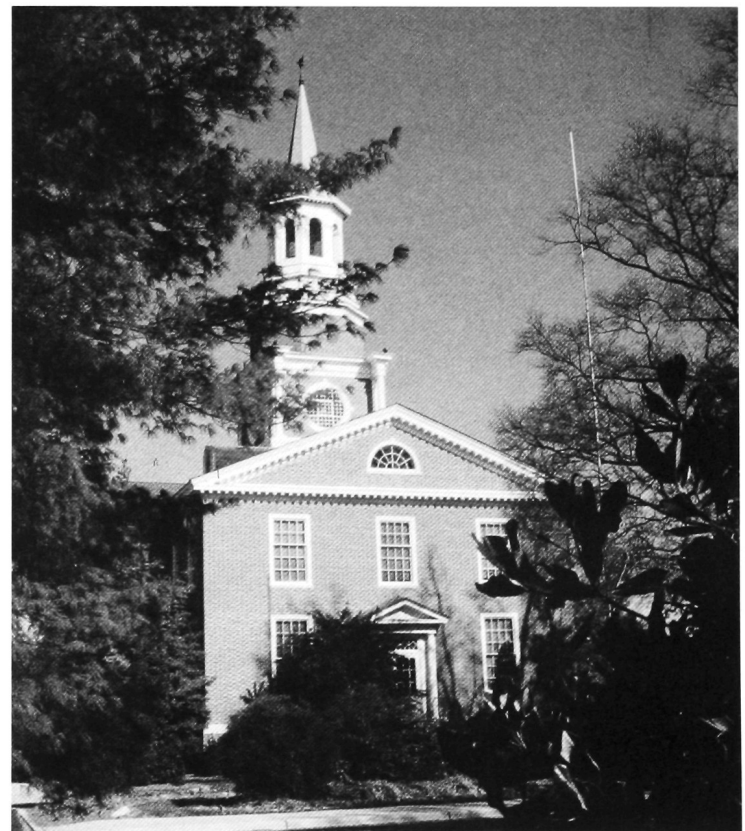

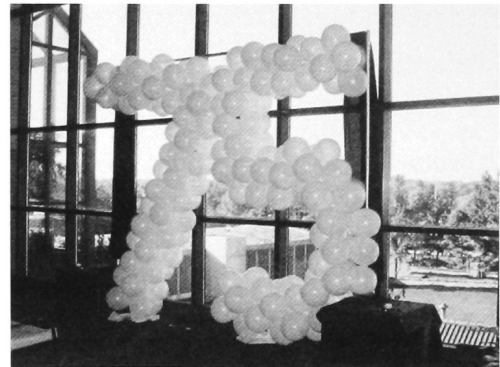

High Point University became a member of the Big South Conference and NCAA Division 1 in 1999. High Point University competes in 7 men's sports and 7 women's sports.

High Point University has students attend from over 40 states and 34 countries - a truly diverse campus.

The University celebrated its 75th diamond anniversary in 1999. Events included the Homecoming Gala, a 75th Anniversary lecture series, and campus-wide Thanksgiving dinner celebration.

Since 1985 the University has received more than $53 million in gifts and grants and has committed over $40 million to construction and renovation of the campus buildings. This investment will help the campus continue to grow and improve in the new millenium.

Derby Day

Fun in the Sun

Derby Day was held on Saturday, August 28, 1999, on the Greensward. Teams from organizations and residence halls met up for an afternoon of friendly competition. Games included mattress race, hippity hop, three-legged race, dizzy bats, and water balloon toss. This event was sponsored by IFC and Panhellenic to help boost community spirit. The RA's served as team captains and the S.O.S. crew were the referees for each event. Game winners received a pizza party to celebrate.

Team Theta Chi rushes for the finish line in the mattress race.

Second McEwen hippity hop team rounds for the finish.

Finch goes head to head with McEwen in the dizzy bat race.

Deneta Armstrong, Verron Shue, and Silvia Armstrong take a break after a successful Derby Day.

Third floor McEwen puts forth a winning effort in the three-legged race.

Prince Dauntless (Matthew Reedy) desperately seeks a princess to wed, cheered on by the chorus.

The cast was accompanied by the orchestra, led by Todd Carter.

Harry (Doug Herring) and Larken (Wendy Fisher) sing of their marriage plans once the prince is finally wed and everyone in the kingdom can do so also.

Winnifred (Hilde Christensen) confronts the Prince and Queen (Rasha Zamamiri) as the king (Ken Fisher) looks on.

The wizard (Ed Hickey) tells the minstrel (Audra Callahan) and Jester (Jackie Smith) of the Queen's plan to trick Winnifred and foil the marriage.

Prince Dauntless and Winnifred study together in order for her to pass the Queen's test (in order to be married).

Once Upon a Mattress

A comedy musical draws appreciative crowds during Parents' Weekend

The Tower Players presented "Once Upon a Mattress" on November 5-9, 1999, an offbeat comedy musical based on the tale of "The Princess and the Pea." In the play, a talkative Queen and silent King rule a kingdom where no one is allowed to be married until their son the Prince has wed. The Queen wants her son to remain a bachelor and devises impossible tests for marriage "candidates." Her plan works until a loyal knight, Harry, (driven by his desire to wed his beloved Larken) finds Winnifred, a charming (and not very shy) princess. With the help of the wizard, minstrel, and jester, Winnifred passes the sensitivity test (the pea in the mattress) and wins the heart and the hand of Prince Dauntless.

The Queen confronts Larken as she tries to run away (disguised as a boy) when she realizes she and Harry cannot marry.

Homecoming

October 2, 1999

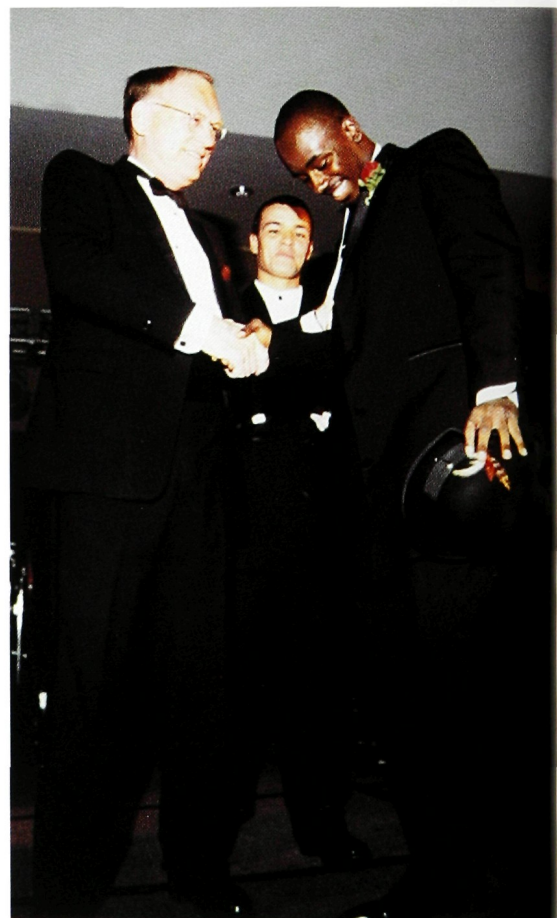

75th Anniversary Diamond Gala

The 75th gala was held in the Benton Convention Center with over 1,200 students, alumni, faculty, and staff in attendance. The dance was sponsored by the Student Government Association in conjunction with the Offices of Student Life, Student Activities, and Alumni Affairs. Five different entertainment areas included a karaoke room, a grand ballroom (with a band and DJ), a free novelty room, coffee/dessert bar atrium, and roving artists in the main hall. President Martinson crowned McCullough Caldwell as Queen and Larikus Scott as King at 11:30 pm; then the court did the traditional coronation dance. The party lasted until 2 am and received rave reviews from those who attended.

The crowd of revelers gather in the main ball area.

Jimmy Routh, Justin Wood, Larikus Scott, and Matt McLendon are announced onstage.

President Martinson awards Larikus Scott the Homecoming King medal.

Kat Hoffman, Cass Arnold, McCullough Caldwell, and Nikita Jones await the queen announcement.

The novelty room was a great place to sit, relax and enjoy the atmosphere.

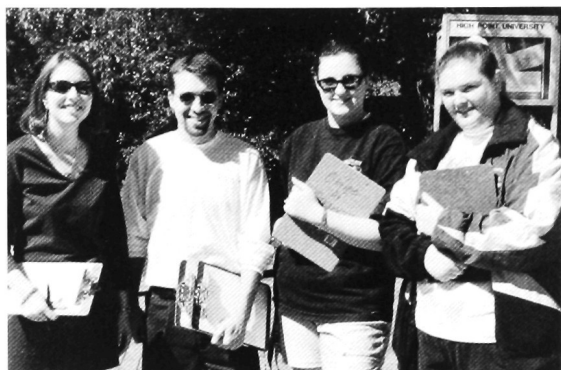

The atrium hosted a casual atmosphere with coffee, desserts, and light background music.

President Martinson crowns McCullough Caldwell as our 1999 Homecoming Queen.

Representatives of SAB, Gams, and Zetas show off their parade awards.

The distinguished panel of judges included Kat Hoffman, Ted Sikes (Parade Coordinator), Elizabeth Brown, and Shalon Hickie.

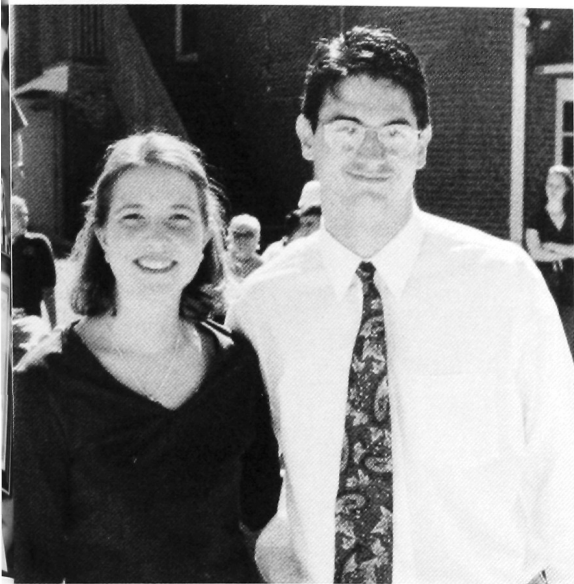

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity turned quite a few heads with their fire engine float.

Theta Chi and Alpha Gamma Delta showed off their creative bull float (horns included).

Kat Hoffman, Vice President of SGA and Homecoming Chair, and Matt McLendon, SGA President were instrumental in making homecoming a huge success.

Even the Panther turned out to cheer on the parade!

Homecoming

Students enjoy the 4th annual Homecoming Parade

On October 2, 1999, the parade officially kicked off the day's celebration and served as the final event for Greek Week. Over 15 organizations participated and 7 awards were given to the top floats. Best theme was given to Theta Chi and Alpha Gamma Delta. Best overall was Zetas and Pikes. Most creative and most fun went to Delta Sig and Kappa Delta. Student Activities Board walked off with the coveted Panther Spirit Award. The SGA Vice President Award went to Alpha Delta Theta and the SGA President award was given to Pikes and Zetas. Award winners were given a framed certificate and a cash prize.

Kappa Delta and Delta Sigma Phi had one of the most unusual and fun floats - a boat.

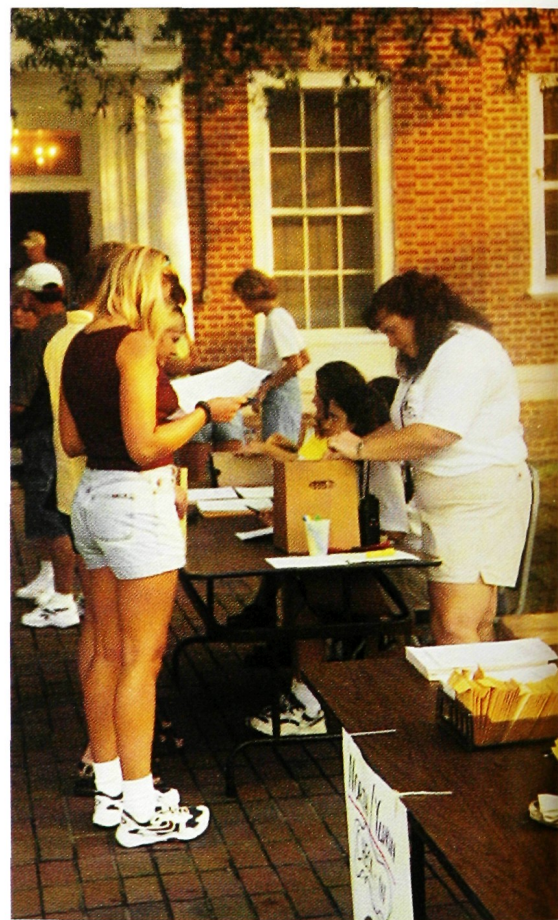

Residence Hall Life

Living on campus is a valuable experience during one's college career. The residence life staff helps make that experience as positive as possible. The campus is divided into two sections: East and West Campus. West Campus is supervised by Rans Triplett (AD), Matt McLendon (ARD) and Ted Sikes (RD). East Campus is supervised by Leslie Veach (AD), Mary Beth Ritchie (ARD) and Beverly Nunley (RD). There are 27 RAs (resident assistants) divided among East/West Campus. Each RA is trained at the beginning of the year and is responsible for every aspect of his or her individual hall.

Amanda Isaac, Tasha Haskins, and Rans Triplett cheer on their residence hall teams during Derby Day.

Greek Week

A time for friendly competition in the name of fun

Everyone's a star at lip sync night.

Rans Triplett and Emily Hunter coordinated Greek Week events.

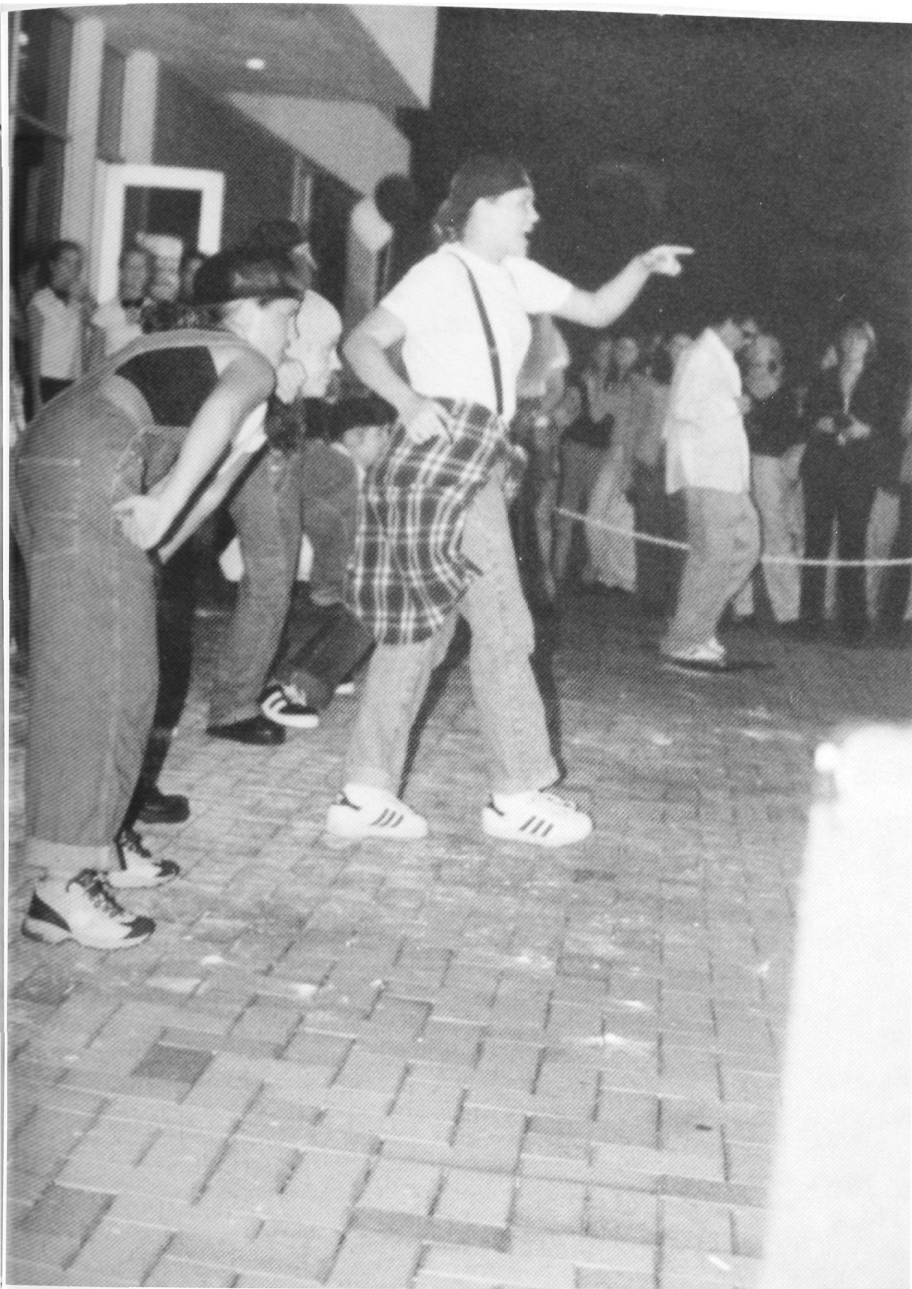

Greek Week was held from Sunday, September 26 until Saturday, October 2, 1999. The week-long activities were developed and sponsored by IFC and Panhellenic Councils. The purpose of Greek Week is to have fun and promote friendly rivalry within the Greek organizations. Events included banner contest, scavenger hunt, volleyball match, pool night, bowling, etc. The week ended with the Homecoming parade where all four pairings sponsor a float. Winners were announced at the Homecoming Dance.

The banner contest showed off each group's artistic side.
